ICE GORGES

In Allegheny River May Cause Another Flood.

LOSS OF MILLIONS

Is Reported from Various Cities and Towns Along the Ohio River and Its Tributaries.

Pittsburg, March 18.-With 80 miles of ice in the Allegheny river above Parker, Pa., and a drizzling rain throughout western Pennsylvania, local river men are looking forward to another flood stage in this

Although the Monongahela and Ohlo rivers are slowly falling, the Allegheny river is stationary.

The warm rain falling in this vicinity is expected to release the ice which lies from Parker, Pa., to a point 80 miles up the river and it will start down the river in great quantities. Preparations are being made here to prevent any serious damage when the ice gorge arrives here.

A majority of the mills and manu facturing plants which were closed for three days by the recent high water were in operation Sunday. The plants will be operated double time in an effort to make up the time lost.

Hundreds of business houses in the down town district will resume to-day. The work of clearing the debris from the interiors of these buildings was completed Sunday.

Train service has been restored.

Slow running schedules are used. It is said that the damage sustained by the railroads will not be fully known for several weeks. Miles of track have been weakened and will have to be replaced. Hundreds of cars were swept into the rivers. The damage sustained by the Baltimore & Ohio railroad between Pittsburg and Connellsville, Pa., will be enormous.

Street car lines are operating in full here. In a number of places, electric light plants are still crippled.

Cincinnati, March 18.—With a stage of 61 feet last evening it was believed that the crest of the Ohio river flood was not far away. The river has been running out very fast because of a lack of overfullness at lower river points. Losses cannot be given, although they are heavy and extensive. The present flood has come from unprecedentedly heavy rains on a soft soil, the result being an extensive amount of mud which has settled on all flooded property. Personal suffering has not cessive on account of mild weather and, although many thousands have been driven from their homes, the situation has been bearable.

Reports from up the river say that the worst is over at points above Ciacinnatt, but the suffering of the homeless and unemployed will consinue several days. The Cincinnati adminissue bonds for $150,000 for the relief of flood sufferers.

The city suffered a loss of about $150,000 Sunday by the collapsing of the Eighth street viaduct, used by the railroads of the Mill Creek quarter. Three 50-foot spans of this viaduct went down into the flood, but the high water is not believed to be the sole cause of the disaster. There was no one on the bridge. Several electric car lines use this viaduct.

Huntington, W. Va., March 18.—The

Oblo river reached its highest point Sunday with 58.3 feet. After remain ing stationary two hours, it began to recede slowly. The stage exceeded by six-tenths of a foot the January flood. Some 500 homes in Huntington and Central City are surrounded with water. Catlettsburg, Ceredo and Proctorville are flooded. The Baltimore & Ohio railroad has not run a train into Huntington since Wednes-

Portsmouth, O., March 18.—The Ohio river last night was at a stand here, lacking but three inches of reaching the January stage of 61 feet. One-third of the city was submerged. Thousands of people put in the day boat riding through the principal streets. The Ohio is certain to recede rapidly and factories and business houses hope to resume Tuesday There have been no fatalities re

Parkersburg, W. Va., March 18.— The bodies of John F. Francis, his son Henry and daughter Della, who were drowned Friday night while fleeing from their flooded home, were recov ered Sunday. The river has fallen improved.

Wheeling, March 18 .-- The waters the highest flood this section of the Ohlo valley has seen for 20 years are receding, lowing Wheeling cov red with wreckage. The debris is screet in some sections of the city that will be days after the water goes before the streets can be used in Wheeling aione will be over

RAIL ACCIDENTS ON INCREASE. Total Casualties of 19,850 in Quarter Ending Sept. 30, 1906,

Washington.-Railroad accidents in the United States are rapidly increasing, according to accident bulletin No. 21, issued by the interstate commerce commission, covering the three months ending September 30, 1906. In view of the known accidents during the last three months, when more than 100 passengers were killed within a week, the commission expects that the figures of the next quarter will be still larger.

The bulletin gives the total number of casualties to passengers and em ployes on duty as 19,850, against 16, 937 in the preceding three months. The number of passengers and employes killed in train accidents was 267, against 194 in the preceding threa months. There were 1,891 collisions and 1.781 derailments, of which 269 collisions and 201 derailments affected passenger trains. The damage to cars, engines and roadway amounted to $2.932.760.

The number of passengers killed was 52 in the quarter. The number of employes killed in coupling and uncoupling cars and engines was $1, au increase of 13 over the last quarter.
